

berlinerpool: Open call for artists, deadline 29th January 2012

Are you an artist working in Berlin? Living in transit between Berlin and X? Did you realize a project in Berlin? Do not miss this opportunity to be part of berlinerpool | mobile artists archive! Submit your application by 29th January 2012!

WHAT IS BERLINERPOOL?

berlinerpool is an artist initiative that structures a cooperative network of artists, curators and art spaces. The online profile pages and mobile archive provide information about berlinerpool members. berlinerpool offers consulting and research services for curators, develops its own projects and participates in exhibitions and events.

berlinerpool is an artist-driven organization. It means that artists choose artists, either by inviting them to join our network or by being part of the jury in the selection process. Members can also invite curators and art spaces to join berlinerpool archive and network.

HOW TO APPLY:

In order to become a member, you need to fill in our online application form.

A jury composed of 3 berlinerpool members will select the new members (during last selection 50% of applications were approved). The jury meeting is planned for 8th February 2012. Applicants will be promptly notified when the jury comes to a decision.

To complete your application you have to send us 5 to 10 images of your works with a short description as a pdf file via e-mail using the following address: application@berlinerpool.de For bigger files we provided you with a WeTransfer channel. WeTransfer is our partner for the application process.
